“Wow! How can I find words to express how my heart hurts to hear of your passing. Antoniece, auntie love you and a part of my heart feel a void. But to know that you are resting in the arms of God gives me comfort to know that you will never suffer again, you are totally healed sitting at the right hand of Jesus making intercession for the family left behind. Such a beautiful soul and I will miss your beautiful smile and the love you had for me. Edlena, my prayers are with you during this difficult time to lay to rest your baby girl. Know that I will continue to keep you all in my prayers. Weeping may endure for a night, however joy will come again in the morning. Let God be your strength as we come together as family to celebrate the life of Antoniece. I love you all Aunty Melba 💕
