“ On behalf of the Marshall family I would like to send my sincere condolences. Personally, I have known "baby brother" his entire life and always loved our banter. I have fond memories of working together in the St. John children's ministry with him. Baby brother certainly came from excellent stock..... The entire Holbert family are such kind and wonderful people and my heart breaks for you at this time. Sincerely, Veronica Marshall

“ There are so many fond memories I could share, to sum it up Charles was a dynamic person. The memories of Charles and I discussing his first love (The Lord) is what I hold dear. If I had a question about the Bible I could call Charles and get an answer, and expect to get follow up text or emails with supporting biblical references. Charles knew the Lord and that word!!! Charles loved his family dearly and his church family St. John. He will turely be missed as he has touched the lives of so many. Although, I write from a heavy heart, I celebrate having know him. Peace & Blessings to All.

“ *It watched this young man watched this young man grow up, within my church Family, my mother was a Youth Choir Sponsor, with Gershell Holbert, and I knew him as Baby Brother, along with his Sister, Dumplings... He was a precocious little boy, but, a littler reserved, as well, and he seemed to always be smiling... He liked to mess with me, always wanting to okay around, whenever we'd be at church, or at some choir function... Even into his adulthood, he was still Baby Brother in my eyes... The last time I saw him, he addressed me as Jess Travis Abram III... I was shocked he actually was aware of my full name, and remembered, that, other than what he, and those in church knew me as, Tray...
I am overcome with shock and grief, and as I type, my emotions are full... To Charles, Gershelle, and Dumplings, my heart, and my arms stretch out to you, my mind, will always remember, Baby Brother, like he was my own little Baby Brother....
Be encouraged, Jess T. Abram III (Tray)*

“ From his bow ties, to his southern hospitality, Charles was always true to who HE was. Funny, welcoming, and always ready for a good time, even if that meant creating one! One phrase I always used on him was "shut up, Charles!" playfully because we would always get into some sort of banter. He connected with lots of people, and made lots of people love him from his character alone. I won't forgive you for calling me Jesus either because of my hair, lol and I won't forget the that night you kept me from going to bathroom so we can walk to Macy's for a night cap with Spencer lol. I won't forget any of those things, and I damn sure won't forget YOU! My heart goes out to the Holbert family!

“ Charles was such a pleasure to be in the presence of. He always had a smile on his face and ensured that wherever his presence was there was a good time. I only managed him a short time but we became friends about a year ago. We met at the strangest moment and he made it feel as if we had known each other for years. I had the pleasure of spending and evening out with him on the Friday before his passing and I hold on to those laughs and memories we shared to remain strong. To the family, thank you for sharing Charles with me. He will truly be missed.

“ Charles was a man who would threaten you with a good time and accomplish. I had the opportunity to be his boss at Avant in several depts, seems I couldn't get rid of him lol. We became friends outside of the company. He was a daper and well respected man. He will be missed. To the Oklahoma family thank you for sharing Charles with us in Chicago.

Thank you for sharing as a friend of his in Oklahoma. We really missed him, glad to know he was surrounded with good people in Chi-town. Charles was the man, charming, well versed and a pleasure to be around. Never a full moment, beneath all of that he was a caring person. I find it a privilege to have been his friend. May the peace of the Lord rest upon his family and friends in Chicago.

To the Holbert Family - May there be comfort in knowing that someone so special will never be forgotten. May He who knows your sorrow bring peace, comfort, and healing to your soul.

Words seem inadequate to express the sorrow felt by the loss of Baby Brother. Hold tight to memories for comfort, lean on your friends and family for strength, and remember that God loves you. Words cannot express my sadness. I am keeping you in my prayers and in my heart; and may the comfort of God be with you.
