Christopher effortlessly impacted the people around him. When it came to loving others, Christopher would do it first. He never held a grudge, nor did he complain about what many of us would see as his limitations. Christopher had one thing on his agenda each day, and that was fearless love. Christopher had a "seize the day" mentality, coupled with an endless reservoir of love. He stuffed joy into every moment. His bright light shined through his laughter and his laser-sharp focus on the positive. Christopher had a child-like faith that taught us how to live, and to love unconditionally. Chris taught us how to Level Up!!

“ We are so very sorry for your loss of such a beautiful boy. Christopher was sweet, funny and a good friend to our daughter.. his buddy, Reagan. We know your hearts are aching right now but we hope you find comfort in knowing the positive ways he touched others.. making them smile and laugh.
