“ I just now found out and am quite sadden to hear about the death of my dear childhood friend, schoolmate, and neighbor. Dwight and I spent many hours together running sprints, lifting weights, going through football drills, playing basketball and, even as true gentlemen, going out on numerous double dates with some nice young ladies. I am indebted to my friend for teaching me and training me in the true fundamentals of boxing as he shared his skills that he gleaned from his training as a young Golden Glove boxer. Dwight was a regular and quite welcome dinner guest at our home in Spencer, Oklahoma and he was always so very thoughtful, appreciative, and simply fun to be around. My friend will be greatly missed.

My thoughts and prayers are with the Jackson family and please know that Dwight was a significant blessing to me and to many others.
