* Eva Nell was a very accomplished Mother, Sister, Daughter, and Friend. She had a successful career as well as a very successful educational career. Eva loved to learn new things and enjoyed meeting people. Her passion was caring for others even when they could not care for themselves. Eva helped people and especially family members both near and far all of the time. Her compassion and ability to see the best in anyone was one of her many strong points. Eva received many accolades during life but her most prized possessions were her children. She kept them covered in prayer and cherished every moment she spent with them, whether it was over the phone or in person.
