“ Smarty Pants! I say that in a loving way. B Ball talent, Mother? Going Back...good friend...lots of laughter. (I'll drive all of us to McKee Ds...coming over..see ya'.) Wise and Funny...rest in comfort Boys, all family, friends and colleagues. Take lots of pictures, videos..it keeps our loved one alive. It's the inside...hard to feel complete and it's true. Close your eyes and think about some goofy times. Stay close and day by day...remember something beautiful. I will, too. Sending my love to each and every that crossed Gwen's path.

“ McGuire AFB was really the beginning of our friendship..She was the only girl who played pop warner Baseball. At least from what I remember.. Not softball but Baseball. The sport was dominated by guys..The reason I remember so well..She hit a homerun over my head..Gwen was a phenominal athlete from youth through high school. She and I spoke several times a month. She was a great friend and in many way an accomplished comedian..She related to life so positively. And with comedic precision. She is her mother's child. Gwen loved and sacrificed for her sons more than I can explain..I miss you..Rest in Peace and Power..

She and I would always be friends no matter the distance or views or talking because we shared many things, that now that resonate in my memories. As mentioned, I had many in my 1st car and Gwen on our way to McDonalds or The Plaza..I was so glad to see you and your family in New Jersey after many years. Crazy seeing you as a Mom. You were a smart cookie, too. Oh, and basketball. I scored the number on my shirt, but you....We'll all always be connected. The string never breaks. Family and friends, I send you loving hugs and prayers of comfort. Glad you were on my path, Gwen.

I had the privilege to meet Gwen at work. She was that great mix of intelligent and sarcastic and just plain fun. My thoughts to her family during this time.
