“ I got to meet Ms. Ann for less than 6 months, worked with her for her last month's in the same room. I'm glad I got to experience the little bond we grew, she shared her strengths, fears and wisdom with me and I'm glad I got to see her and pray with her before she left. I have her handbag she left with me, and it will always remind me of her. I still can't believe she's gone.

Dear Family:

I didn't know Ms Anne for very long (only about 8 months). I had the honor, pleasure and bonding of talking with and praying for her. Though our meeting was brief, it was "familiar," hence my referring Y'all as family. As family, we do life together. Our contribution to each other, no matter how big or how small should be meaningful and heartfelt. My "contribution" was a couple of hats.

They were specifically for 'chemo' patients, but I wore them as decorative head pieces. However, looking at these pictures, I can honestly say, for the looks of Our Angel's hair... I need them more than she did!

Let us Not forget that doing life together means that sometimes our folks are taken away from us, which by our own definition and finiteness seems too soon. But God embraces our loved ones and calls us Home in His Time (which we know to be Eternal) verses our (finite and limited) time tables.

Of course, we are saddened; we grieve. But let us Not let sadness and grieving Override The Hope in Jesus, for we Know, "...to be Absent from the Body is to be Present with The Lord..."

Lastly, I submit to you, what better place could our angel be than within the safety and comfort of Our Lord where she is now Resting In Peace and residing among the Angels, for Death and the Grave is Not our Final Resting Place.

AMEN 🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏

“ She was a really good lady. She said what was on her mind. I appreciated everything she did and her conversations that we had. I will surely miss her very much. She knew what was needed to be said. And I approached her for who she was, is and everything that she stood for. Thank you Ann for being who you are and what you stood for.
