“ Marjorie was well liked by co-workers at OCNE, Oklahoma City Northeast and she had a real gift of expression. She loved her family, church, choir and community.

“ Marjorie and I were members of the Ambassadors Choir for many years together. When I first joined the choir in 2005 I noticed her beautiful presence. She was tall, classy and had an elegance about her, yet she was personable and easily approachable. I recall a time when the Ambassadors were going out of state to a concert. We chartered two buses. Several of us members were discussing who was riding, Marjorie said, oh no, I do not ride buses, my husband will be driving me. Another time, for some reason her husband could not drive her and she had to ride the bus with us "common" folk. Once we got there I ask, so how was the ride? she replied, it was not bad, I really enjoyed it. I smiled and went my way. At first look you would not think she was humorous, she was -- and what a delight because you never knew what she was going to say. She is and will continually be missed. “ Marjorie have been friends ever since we met. She was the epitome of class and splendor. Whenever I needed her, she would always be there. We shared so much: worked together; worshiped together and laughed and played together. To Sleepy, Michael, Maya and the entire family, I am praying for your strength and comfort. Much Love,
