“ I started a custody case for my 5 month old daughter back in february against her father who unfortunately still lives with me, he refused/returned to sender, the court order that I had to send through certified mail and I want to know what are the next steps, since I'm unable to file the affidavit saying he received it? (.Is there a way to stop a custody case, once initiated?) .And since he refused the initial papers would either of us still get penalized/fined for not taking that 8 hour required parent education course by 4/30 the due date, since it would technically be that he did not receive the summons? Would that mean we can't go forward with it? What happens?I dont have an attorney and I work during business hours and it's becoming too costly and jeopardizing my work trying to go down to the court house to get every question answered Is there some kind of online/over the phone help for this stuff? I still want to do this as I believe it is in my daughters best interest that I have sole custody because her dad is irresponsible and had a habit of threatening to take her out the state and not let me know where they are but I just dont know what to do we are not in a stable relationship or living environment and this is straining the house as we all do still live together including my 2 year old who is not his daughter . I just need some information if someone can help please <http://kaogsihffh.com> [url=http://psrsyv.com]psrsyv[url] [link=http://uxwwju.com]uxwwju[link]

“ that he WAS going to get FULL custody of my children but he would give me a choice. i could sign the papers willingly and he would make sure that his attorney had it in the custody papers that i could see my children as often as i wanted but i had to sign the papers that gave him FULL custody. BUT if i didnt sign the papers he was going to get custody anyways and NEVER see my children again and he knows that i cant afford an attorney and did mention that while on the phone with me. so my question is how will that effect me when, however long it may take me, i do get the money to get full custody of my babies who i miss dearly. will the judge think i just signed those papers because i didnt want them and didnt care to have them but all the sudden have a change of heart??? i dont know what to do and have like one day to decide. im desperate ill do anything to see my mini me's i dont know if it will do any good or not but i do have that conversation and several more recorded with him and his girlfriend saying horrible negative things to me and also him telling me it's gonna be his way with or without my consent and if he had to do it without my consent i would never see them and the only way i could is if i signed .wow im really so confused and a lawyer right now is out of the question because i dont even have a job and somehow have to come up with 250.00 a month now for child support. for now their dad is more stable but my opinion thats not permanent im a mom on purpose it wasnt an accident and though it may be more than what i get now once a week and every other weekend IS NOT enough for me and certainly NOT FAIR TO OUR CHILDREN. they didnt ask for this

“ To my nieces Stepahnie, Alisha and nephew Kevin. I\\'m so sorry I will not be able to be their with you all tomorrow. As you know I\\'m in South Carolina and due to health reasons I wasn\\'t able to make the trip. Please know that my thoughts and most importantly my prayers are with each and everyone of you. I\\'ve known Barbara Ann all of her life and she was sweet, humble and peaceful niece. Her and Dorothy were my 2 oldest nieces and we shared many times together. I find comfort and knowing she knew the master for herself and I pray you all go closer too him. The chain has been broken draw closer as family not apart and know God is the only one to see you thru this. Much Love, Aunt Faye

“ My heart felt condolences to Stephanie, Alisha, and Maurice as well as the entire family. I\ve known Mrs. Barbara Ann for 33 years when I met Stephanie and she was always keeping me laughing. The last time I saw her was when I ran into her at Crest we stopped to talk about things and Bingo which both of our mamas loved to play. She will be missed cause I thought of her as my other mama and it hurts to hear that she\’s gone but she\’s free from pain and suffering. RIP Mrs. Barbara Ann
