“ Shirley was my supervisor when I came to work at Mercy (back when they had an inpatient psych center) in 1995 just after the Murrah Building bombing. She was an incredible person who had a profound impact on me. I left Mercy in 1998 but am now a Licensed Professional Counselor, largely due to her encouragement of me when I entered grad school. I still have the "Don't Quit" plaque she gave me at one low point of that time, and just have the fondest of memories of her. I had been trying to locate her for a few months and today was so saddened to learn of her death. She was an amazing person for whom I have a great amount of trust and respect. I so regret not reaching out sooner to have been able to tell her in person. Please accept my deepest sympathies.
