“ It’s taken me a moment to post this, but let me say first, Life is all about connecting. We may not always know why we connect with people, but I assure you our creator has it all woven in his master plan! To some, Tayevion Henderson will be remembered as another life cut short due to gun violence, but that is not the young man I remember. I choose to remember his quirky smile and quick wit! Me and him could go back and forth until I reminded him who was the teacher, lol! On last night, his former #ICMS classmates organized a ballon release to honor his life! I was so grateful that I could attend. I would joke with Tay all the time saying “I worry about your future”. Such a funny inside joke then, but not so funny today. The only thing that comforts me is I don’t have to worry anymore, because you rest. You have the peace that you were searching for in this life. Your memory will be a constant reminder to never let up on silencing the stigma of mental illness and support for those suffering in silence. To Andris, Hannah, Zoe, Choctaw, Tink, and the rest of the ICMS alumni, I am so proud of you! Your love and unity are unmatched! You guys are the reason I said yes to #ICMS in the first place! You ALL have a special place in my heart forever! Continue to love and support one another as you go into your Senior year and beyond! Most of all, remember Tayevion! #Beelnspired #RIP 💜🙏
